

Middle School Summer Reading Selections

Middle School students will be required to read one specific book for their Language Arts class over the summer. Below you will find the selections chosen by the Middle School Language Arts teachers for summer reading. It is suggested that all students read a variety of books over the summer.

Students entering 6th, 7th, and 8th grade will be required to take a quiz or answer a writing prompt that relates to their selected novel in one of their first Language Arts classes. The assessment will be mainly for reading comprehension and used as their first grade in that class for the school year.

Incoming 6th Grade Students:

- The Neverending Story, by Michael Ende

Incoming 7th Grade Students:

- Freak the Mighty by Rodman Philbrick

Incoming 8th Grade Students:

- The Book Thief by Markus Zusak

Happy Reading!
